Before you dive in

These businesses are crushing it in the USA and other countries, and the ideas can be copied where you live.

Every number in this guide comes from a real, named source: a franchise disclosure document (FDD), a company filing, a founder interview, or the press. I have not invented a figure. If I could not source one, I swapped the idea for another.

> Gross revenue is sales, not take-home pay. Averages can sit well above a typical year, which is why medians or dates are noted where they help. These are what those businesses reported in a given year — not a promise of what you would earn.

A few dry asides slipped in. None of them change a number.

01 Pet-waste collection rounds

DoodyCalls · USA

A crew walks a set route of yards and apartment complexes, scoops the dog poop, and hauls it away. Homeowners book a weekly visit. Complexes can add poop-bag stations too.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

DoodyCalls franchisees that operated for the full year of 2025 averaged $365,634 in gross revenue. The median was $147,096. That is from Item 19 of the 2026 FDD, covering 65 franchisees.

Yes, people pay good money to have someone else pick up the poop. Adulthood is weird.

02 Front-porch Saturday micro-bakery

Little Bit Bakery · USA

Angela Henson bakes sourdough, cinnamon rolls and cookies at home in Frisco, Texas, then rolls a wooden cart onto the front porch on Saturday mornings. Neighbours line up before sunrise. The popular stuff sells out.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

After sitting down with Angela, Chris Koerner reported she has been doing $2,000 to $2,100 in sales each Saturday, with costs of about $500 a week, mostly ingredients and packaging.

03 Mobile insect-screen repair

Screenmobile · USA

A van pulls up at the house. The crew measures a damaged window or door screen and builds the replacement on the driveway, in one visit. No workshop run-around.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

The 130 Screenmobile territories that operated for all of fiscal 2025 averaged $483,885 in gross revenue. The median was $289,429. That is Item 19 of the 2026 FDD, published on the official franchise site.

04 Self-serve ice vending

Ice House America · USA

A self-serve machine makes and bags ice on the spot — for braais, taverns, campsites and the last-minute shopper who does not want to take a chance on a melted bag at the café.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

Ice House America says the annual daily average across its top ten performing states is 78 vends a day, or 28,392 a year. Owners usually price a bag between $1.50 and $3. The company also publishes this illustration: if you sell those 78 bags a day, that is about $7,020 net a month, before any machine financing. That net figure is their worked example, not a guaranteed paycheque.

Selling frozen water should not be this straightforward. And yet.

05 Holiday decorating for homes, offices and shops

Christmas Decor · USA

A crew designs, installs and later takes down festive lights and décor for houses, shopfronts, offices, malls and even city streets. Most of the selling happens before December. Then they come back and pack it all away.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

Franchises open five years or more averaged $432,619 in gross sales for the season that ended in December 2024. The median was $229,705. That covers 205 franchises, from Item 19 of the 2026 FDD.

06 Bathtub refinishing

Miracle Method · USA

Instead of ripping out an old bath, basin or countertop, a technician sands it back and applies a new surface on site. The bathroom stays. The finish looks new.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

The average gross revenue of all Miracle Method franchised locations in 2024 was $1,230,180. That covers 73 franchised locations (a "location" can be a franchisee running one or more outlets) that were open for the whole year. The highest reported was $3,903,969. Figures are from Item 19 of the 2025 FDD, on the official franchise site.

09 Bees as a service

The Best Bees Company · USA

They install and look after beehives on office, hotel and home rooftops, then report back on how the bees — and the local plants — are doing. The honey is a nice extra. The monthly fee is the business.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

A 2023 financing-partner case study listed The Best Bees Company at $4.8 million in annual recurring revenue, with operations in 21 regions.

People will pay a monthly fee to keep bees on a roof. The bees do not send invoices, which is probably for the best.

10 Miniature building materials

Mini Materials · USA

They sell tiny, real-concrete cinder blocks, bricks, palettes and mini timber — the sort of thing model-makers, teachers and gift-buyers did not know they needed until they saw a little pallet of blocks.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

In a 2018 Starter Story interview, co-founder Mat Hofma's business was making about $20,000 a month. In a 2022 update, the founders said 2021 was their biggest year yet: gross sales were up 12%, and they sold more than 250,000 cement products by hand in the USA.

11 Fresh orange-juice vending

iJooz · Singapore, machines in 32 countries

A vending machine squeezes a cup of fresh orange juice in front of you, in a mall, station or office. In Singapore a cup is S$2. In Japan it is 350 yen.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

In the 19 months from June 2023 to December 2024 (a long financial year after iJooz moved its year-end), Singapore subsidiary iJooz AI Pte Ltd more than doubled revenue to S$64.6 million, or about US$31.4 million on an annualised basis, according to reporting on its audited accounts. It recorded profit before tax of US$2.5 million in that period. Those accounts are for the Singapore subsidiary, so they may not capture the whole global group. The company says it serves more than 100,000 cups a day.

12 Glamping in nature

Huttopia · France, with sites in the US, Canada and other countries

Canvas-and-timber tents, cabins and simple campgrounds on well-chosen land — woods, lakes, vineyards — so people can sleep outdoors without giving up a proper bed. Some sites sit on land the group operates; a newer platform also lets private landowners list a legal overnight spot.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

Huttopia reported €144 million in turnover for 2025, up 16%. It operates 162 campgrounds under its brands and has about 1,000 year-round staff (2,000 in high season).

13 House clearance sales

Blue Moon Estate Sales · USA

When a family is moving, downsizing or settling an estate, a team sorts the house, prices the furniture and goods, and runs a sale. They earn a commission on what sells.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

Item 19 of the 2026 FDD reports average annual Gross Sales of $320,636 across 73 franchise territories operating in 2025 (median $228,904). Here "Gross Sales" means the total value of the property sold at the estate sales, not the commission the franchisee keeps.

14 Pop-up marriage-proposal setups

The Yes Girls · USA

They arrive with florals, lights and a plan, stage the proposal, photograph it, and pack up. The client shows up and asks the question. The company has been doing this since 2008.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

The Yes Girls say they have created over 6,000 luxury proposals and weddings. On Shark Tank Season 17, the current owners said 2024 revenue was $374,000, from 94 events, according to episode recaps.

15 Parking-bay and road-line painting

American Striping · USA

They repaint parking bays, arrows and road markings for contractors, malls, estates and municipalities. The work looks simple until you remember a crooked line can ruin a brand-new road.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

In October 2018, Construction Equipment reported that president and CEO Alejandra Harvey had taken American Striping from $400,000 in revenue to $4 million in two years, growing the team from 7 to 22 people.

17 Branded cake and physical gifting

Baked by Melissa · USA

Bite-size cupcakes, packed as gifts and shipped across the country — birthdays, thank-yous, and "thinking of you" boxes for clients. The product is small. The gifting habit is not.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

As of February 2025, Forbes reported the brand had sold over 400 million cupcakes, with 14 shops, and had celebrated over 150,000 birthdays in 2024. Forbes also published its own life-of-company sales estimate. That estimate is not used here — only the brand's own counts as reported in the story.

18 In-shop knife sharpening

Resharp · USA

A compact machine sits inside a hardware store. You hand over a dull knife, and it comes back with a factory-style edge while you wait. Resharp places the machine and splits the takings with the shop.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

The service is about $6.99 per knife. An engineer who led the machine's design wrote that Resharp kiosks are in more than 900 Ace Hardware stores and have sharpened nearly one million knives. Hillman Group bought Resharp in August 2019.

19 Couch and furniture flipping

Independent operators, including a 17-year-old profiled by The Koerner Office · USA

Buy a tired couch cheap (or free), clean it up or restyle it, and sell it on for a markup — sometimes in a day.

HOW MUCH IT MAKES

In The Koerner Office episode 323, Chris Koerner interviewed a 17-year-old furniture flipper. The published episode is titled "He's 17 and Makes $300 an Hour Flipping Couches."

A quick word on the figures

These are real businesses, with real numbers, from the year and source listed next to each one. Some figures are a few years old. Some are averages, and averages get pulled up by the top of the list. None of them is a guarantee of what a copy of the idea would earn where you live.

If a figure ever looked thin, I left that idea out.

This guide is the welcome gift for the Copy It email list. Each week, look out for more business ideas crushing it in other countries — what they are, how much they make, and how you could copy them at home.
